Legislative Board Asks For University Grant

The Capital Improvements Board of the Ohio Legislature has recently recommended to the Legislature that $2,740,000 be appropriated to the University for construction and conversion of several campus buildings.

Of this amount, $1,250,000 is intended for Memorial Hall which is to be located east of the present stadium and will house the health and physical education and ROTC departments. It will also include a much larger gym for sporting events and other assemblies.

James E. Allan, architect-engineer of Cincinnati, was retained under a former legislative appropriation to plan the new building. He recently designed new field houses for Ohio and Cincinnati Universities.

Overman Hall, the former Chemistry Bldg., will be expanded with the new appropriation to include the departments of geology, physics, and mathematics in addition to the chemistry facilities which it presently houses. This project has been set at an estimated $850,000. An appropriation of $27,300 was given to the University last year for the planning of this addition.

The Legislature will be asked for $340,000 from the above total for the conversion and re-equipping of the Practical Arts Bldg. and the Lab School Bldg. The Practical Arts Bldg. will house the department of geography and other departments.

The University has also asked $500,000 of the $2,740,000 appropriation for the construction of a new campus sewer system. Pres. Ralph W. McDonald stated that the present sewer system is totally inadequate and would be impossible to use with the construction of additional buildings. The new system will include a main trunk line from east of fraternity row across Sterling Farm, located west of the golf course, to the Sewage Disposal Plant on Poe Rd. opposite the University Airport. A complete set of lateral lines will be built across the campus.

If the appropriation bill is passed by the legislature, the funds will be ready for use by October of this year, the President said. Dr. McDonald explained that all of the new buildings are being constructed to accommodate a student body of 7,500 to 10,000 students. He pointed out that this requires some departments to share facilities and classroom space which will be solely theirs when the enrollment reaches this mark.

He also announced that the University has purchased two lots adjoining the Speech Bldg., which is condemned and will have to be razed, for a parking lot in this area.

1957 Key King, Queen To Be Announced At Presentation Assembly

Distribution date for the 1957 Key has been set for Friday, May 10, announced Ann Blackmar, editor.

The book will be presented in an assembly at 4 p.m. in the Practical Arts auditorium. During the re-enactment of "36 Years of the Key," the Key King and Queen and the two senior members of Sic Sic will be revealed.

Distribution on Friday will be limited to student teachers, who will have no other chance to pick up their books, Miss Blackmar said. All other students will begin to receive their books all day Saturday, May 11, in the Key office. Distribution will then continue through the next week.

Students may pick up their Key by presenting their activity card and 15 cents to pay for the sales tax. Non-students may order books after May 25 upon payment of $5.15, stated Miss Blackmar.

IFC Approves Second Semester Rush Program

Second semester rushing was approved for next year by the Inter-Fraternity Council in its meeting April 10, according to Fred Ashley, president.

A plan of having freshman rushing the first semester was put to a vote but was rejected by the council in favor of the second semester plan.

Scholarship Group Initiates 17 Frosh, 3 Faculty Members

Phi Eta Sigma initiated 17 new members Sunday at 2 p.m. in Studio B of the Practical Arts Bldg., according to Richard Kamieniecki, president.

The new members are James Lapham, Robert Kurucz, James Dierickx, Philip Schneider, Roger Sage, Robert Lenga, Charles Kellmyer, John Garner, Gene Crumrine, John Zeilman, Eugene Hengsteler, Ronald Patterson, Ronald Supinski, Howard Brook, Rex McGraw, Norm Nunamaker, Miles Riggs.

Three honorary members were also initiated. They are: Arch B. Conklin, Dean of Men; Dr. Russell Decker, assistant professor of business administration; Dr. Donald C. Kleckner, associate professor of speech.

Any sophomore man wishing to receive the Phi Eta Sigma Outstanding Sophomore award should list his qualifications and send them to Richard Kamieniecki at 145 Shtatzel Hall. The award consists of a $50 scholarship and a rotating plaque.

McDonald Announces Revision In Education Curriculum For Seniors

The senior program for students preparing to teach will be further strengthened as a result of curricular revisions recently worked out by the University's academic officials and faculty members in the Department of Education, Pres. Ralph W. McDonald recently announced.

The "semester of professional concentration" will be a combination of full-time student-teaching experience for the first ten to eleven weeks and intensive class work in professional courses for the last five to six weeks of the semester.

Laboratory Experience

Concurrent with the establishment of the revised senior-year curriculum, there will be a closer relationship between the University Department of Education and the City Schools of Bowling Green which provide the bulk of the laboratory experience for University students preparing to teach, he added.

The relationship between the University and the City Schools is being worked out on a long-range basis by Superintendent of Schools Herbert Bowman and President McDonald. Under the revised arrangement, the University will provide $70,000 a year toward the compensation of teachers and supervisors in the City Schools, in return for which the qualified professional personnel of the city school system will provide supervisory and critic teacher services for University student teachers. Junior students in teacher education also will receive directed observation in city school classrooms.

President McDonald explained that the $70,000 represents funds which it would otherwise be necessary for the University to expend

Miles Announces Committee Plans For Senior Week End

Book And Motor To Hold Initiation, Dinner Tomorrow Evening

Book and Motor, scholarship honor society, will initiate 18 new members at its annual spring banquet, Wednesday, May 1, at the Charles Restaurant, according to Ken Cattarin, president.

The initiation will be held at 5:30 p.m. with a dinner following. Dr. Richard Carpenter, assistant professor of English, will be the speaker.

Initiates are William Bottorff, Carol Creason, Alva G. Crumrine, Judy Druckenmiller, Carolyn George, David H. Goldsmith, Eugene Hengsteler, Elizabeth Hipp, Jo Ann Baish, Diane Davis, Hildegard Heinrich, John Neidhart, Linda Nugent, Rita Pelton, Jeffrey Wilson, and George Guffey.

The third annual commencement week end for the June graduating class is in the planning stage following an organizational meeting held recently. The week end is designed to bring together the seniors, their friends, parents, and faculty members, Lanny Miles, senior class president, has announced.

The senior class will be the guests of Pres. and Mrs. Ralph W. McDonald for this occasion.

Pitch Pikes Make Promotional Trip

The Pitch Pikes made their first promotional trip last week end, stated Gene N. Davis, manager of the group. The trip was arranged to promote the sales of the quartet's recently released recording, "Zing Zing" and "Never-Never Land." Copies of the record were being distributed in Cleveland Friday, April 26, according to Davis.

The Pitch Pikes appeared with Joe Finan a Cleveland disc jockey, in Lyndhurst and Ashland Friday night, and appeared on Phil McLean's Bandstand program and another television program Saturday, April 27. After the television appearances, the quartet sang at a Lakewood canteen.

Sunday, April 28, they traveled to Detroit to meet several of the disc jockeys there.

Future promotional trips have been planned for Pittsburgh, Buffalo, and Philadelphia.

The Pitch Pikes recently signed with a New York agency, said Davis.

Members of the group include Tom Garbhausen, Richard Meredith, Glen Vogel, and Ed Jane-way.

4 Fined By Justices For Auto Violations

Four students appeared in Student Court on Monday, April 15, for violation of University automobile regulations. Two students failed to come to court and were fined in absentia.

Charles Randolph was fined $15 for failure to register his car. The usual fine is $25, but part was suspended because of circumstances.

Found guilty of his third offenses was Daryl Solether. His car privileges were denied for one week in addition to a $5 fine.

Two students were found not guilty of third parking violations. They were Michael McKeown and Edwin Shrimpton.

Fined $1 in absentia for first offenses were John Sacks and David Pelton.

A training program for candidates for women's dormitory counselors is now being conducted by Dean Florence Currier under the leadership of Miss Harriet Daniels, head resident of Lowry Hall.

AF Inspection Scheduled Here

"The annual AFOTC Federal Inspection will take place Wednesday and Thursday, May 1 and 2, stated Lt. Col. Carl G. Arnold, professor of air science.

This year, the inspection team will be comprised of three visiting officers. They are Col. Glendon V. Davis, professor of air science at Michigan State University; Lt. Col. John C. Burnett, from the University of Southern Illinois; and Lt. Col. Joseph C. Styger, from headquarters AFOTC at Maxwell Air Force Base. Col. Davis is the chief of the inspection team.

The purpose of the inspection is to evaluate the AFOTC administration, academic standings, and leadership of the cadet wing here at the University. While they are here, the inspection team will observe all AFOTC classes, and conduct a cadet staff briefing.

The concluding activity of the inspection will be a formal review ceremony held in honor of Pres. Ralph McDonald, and the federal inspection team. The review will be held at the Football Stadium Thursday, May 2, at 3:15 p.m. The public is invited to observe the review.

Tentative scheduling lists numerous events for the commencement week end beginning Friday, June 7 at noon and continuing until graduation on Sunday, June 9.

On Friday, the registration and information desk will be opened for parents and friends of the graduates.

The commencement cotillion will be Friday evening and will include a formal dance, entertainment, and buffet supper.

Saturday activities include special exhibits and campus tours in the morning, followed by the President's Luncheon for graduates and their husbands and/or wives. In the afternoon the graduates and their parents may attend the President's reception. Saturday evening, open houses, special entertainment, and a serenade have been tentatively planned.

The final event, on Sunday, June 9, is commencement.

Senior Committees

Seniors, have been selected as chairmen for the activities, and the remaining members of the senior class received a letter from Miles describing the committees and requested each senior to serve on one of the various committees.

Sally Steidtmann is general chairman of the Senior Luncheon; Kip Crawford, general chairman of the Reception; Herb Hipp, general chairman of special events and guest arrangements; and Lanny Miles, general chairman of the cotillion.

Sub-committee chairmen for the luncheon include Jean Valiquette and Sally Steidtmann; for the reception, Janet Cooke, Fred Ashley, and Jan Thompson; for special events, Chester Arnold, Ann Dupuy, Linda Wipior, George Howick, Henry Jacques, and Herb Moskowitz; for the cotillion, Nancy Plummer, Nancy Ford, Frances Stevenson, Suzanne Clafin, Sara Banks, Ron Walsh, and Carl Deisig.

Consultants

Committee consultants are Agnes Hooley, John H. Hepler, Ann Potoky, Emma Whiteford, Ralph G. Harshman, Donald Peterson, Willard F. Wankelman, Raymond Whittaker, Harold Van Winkle, and William McKinley Wright.

The executive committee for the week end consists of Miss Ann Potoky, general chairman; the four Senior class officers, Miles, Crawford, Steidtmann, and Hipp; and Mr. Bunn, Dr. Elden T. Smith, Mr. John Hepler, and Dr. William McK. Wright.

Miles also announced that graduation announcements are now available at the Book Store and can be obtained there at any time.

Invitations will be personally sent to the parents of all graduating seniors by Pres. and Mrs. McDonald.

Williams Cops Award At Meet

Roland Williams, senior member of the University debate squad, proved his worth as a varsity debater by copping an award of "excellent" in extemporaneous speaking during the national convention of Pi Kappa Delta at South Dakota State University, April 14 through 19.

Williams teamed up with Larry Gardner in the men's debate division, winning three decisions out of a possible eight. Their victories were over Sioux Falls College, South Dakota; Luther College, Iowa; and North Eastern Missouri.

In women's debate, Phyllis O'Reilly and Dora Ann D'Zurik split evenly in their eight tries. They topped Whitman College, Washington; South Western Louisiana Institute; and Western Washington. The group from Hope College, Michigan, which has previously met the local speechmakers, also fell before these two University debaters.

Polio Shots Are Now Available

The second series of Salk polio vaccine injections have been scheduled to resume at the University Health Service and will continue to be given for the next three weeks, according to Virgil H. Taylor, business manager.

Prior to spring vacation, the injections were postponed three weeks because of the scarcity of the vaccine. Within the coming scheduled period, every student at the University will be given final opportunity to receive an inoculation, stated Mr. Taylor.

Some students, 19 years old and under, received second injections last night, April 29. Others in this age group will receive injections tonight, April 30. These students were notified by campus mail.

Other students who are 20 years old and over are requested to come to the Health Service between 6-9 p.m. on the nights of May 1, 2, and 6 to receive their second injections. An 80c fee must be paid by these students at the time of inoculation.

Dr. Robert Cott, University physician, announced that May 7 and 8 are open nights at the Health Service. At this time any student may receive a second injection OR receive a first injection.

If a first injection is given during these open nights, minors must present parental permission and those 20 years old and over must pay 80c for the injection. Dr. Cott further related that the second series injections will be given to these students before the school year ends.

All students who have their first two injections will be given the third and final injection in the fall semester of 1957. However, first series injections can not be given at this time. The first and second inoculations must be given this year.

Ecker Elected Veep Of Ohio Music Association

Dr. Richard Ecker, assistant professor of music, has been elected vice-president of District 1 of the Ohio Music Educators Association, it was announced last week. Dr. Ecker served as director of the state music finals sponsored here by the OMEA last month.

Theta Chi Wins Annual Bike Race

Theta Chi fraternity took top honors in the Seventh Annual Delta Upsilon Bike Race last Saturday with 68 laps or 149.6 miles in the eight-hour race. Phi Delta Theta ran a close second with 67 laps—147.4 miles. Delta Tau Delta took third place with 60 laps or 132 miles. Eleven fraternities took part in this year's race.

Phi Delta Theta's Bob McLean won the speed lap with a time of 6:34. In this event two heats were run and the best time of either heat was judged for the winning time. Nancy Plummer, Delta Gamma, was selected as the Queen of the DU Bike Race by Perry Como. Miss Plummer was chosen from three finalists who in turn were selected from eleven original candidates, one from each sorority.

George DeGennaro was chairman of the event and Don Doyle was co-chairman. Judges for the race were DeGennaro, Dick Brennaman, Dick Dassel, Chet Arnold, Jim Lessig, Tony D'Erme and John Smith, assistant professor of air science.

The course of the race was 2.2 miles long, and follows the rectangle made by Ridge St., North College Dr., Poe Rd. and Yount Rd. The start and finish line was behind the English Bldg. Originally the DU Bike Race lasted for 24 hours and four years ago the time reduced to 12 hours. To make the race less strenuous the time was again reduced this year to eight hours, beginning at 7 a.m. and ending at 3:30 with a half-hour break.

'Emphasis On Average' . . .

In spite of the fact that an anonymous friend has informed us through the campus mail that we would do well to stick to "announcements and advertisements," we shall again speak on the subject of the "silent generation." This time we shall look at a peculiar malady affecting the student body which may be classified as "emphasis on the average."

There seems to be a widespread desire among college students of today to be average. Grades, activities, recitation, and interest in more than just getting by, all those things which should in the final sense be a vital part of a college education, are things which are minimized by many students. As some authors have pointed out, there seems to be a tendency to avoid the desire to stand out from one's peers accompanied by the wish to be lost in the group—a brick in a wall indiscernible from the rest of the stones making up the wall.

This is clearly illustrated on our campus by the fact that to be outstanding in academic work is a nebulous honor. Attendance at Honors Day is another case in point. At Honors Day, one is honored by others who are being honored and by faculty members and others who must attend—not by the student body or admirers who someday hope to cross the stage to receive praise for their achievement.

One senses this "emphasis on the average" everywhere. It permeates the entire campus. It is a definite part of the complacent attitude, so long discussed by this paper and its readers, which is becoming more apparent on the campuses of America today.

The problem, we feel, is becoming increasingly known—the vital phase is the solution, which has yet to come.

And the solution will not be a group one for the problem is one of individuals. The silent generation is made up of individuals, each one being complacent, to spread the smear to the entire group.

Thus, we as individuals must strive to stand out. For if we are a leader among leaders on this campus then we shall most assuredly be a leader and a valuable citizen to the world outside the confines of this campus.

Perhaps in our struggle to rid the "emphasis on the average," we might do well to remember the words of David H. Burnham on being outstanding:

"Make no little plans, they have no power to stir men's blood and probably themselves will not be realized. Make big plans; aim high in hope and work, remembering that a noble, logical diagram once recorded will never die, but long after we are gone will be a living thing, asserting itself with ever-growing insistency. Remember that our sons and grandsons are going to do things that would stagger us. Let your watchword be order and your beacon beauty."

Letters To The Editor

Students Thanked By Pitch Pike Manager; Co-Chairmen Grateful

To The Editor:

The length of our life is judged by nature; our character, by deeds; our strength, by compassion—using these as a guide, I justly say that the students of BG, beneath their covers of skin and mind, are truly wholesome and fine individuals—proud and kind, of and to, themselves, their school, and those who are trying for the elevator of success.

In behalf of the Pitch Pikes, myself, our friends and families, we wholeheartedly extend a very warm, deep heartfelt thanks for the magnificent and thrilling way in which you of BG have so wonderfully performed a service—promoting a record.

It would be impossible to explain the proud feeling experienced by us when we were encountered by the luminaries of the recording industry with a "you must have a great bunch of kids in that school . . . your record is in demand and it hasn't even been released yet . . . what a bunch of hustlers."

As I write this letter, the market results are unknown—but with the expelling of such great faith and confidence of so many of you, we can speculate only in the optimistic attitude—May you benefit spiritually as we.

Thanks, over and over—
Cordially,
Gene N. Davis, Manager

Ohio Has Highest Death Rate
On Nation's Highways In 1956

By JEFF OSOFF

Although Ohio has been awarded many honors, the State was recently branded with the dubious distinction of outdistancing the nation generally during 1956 in the murder and wilful manslaughter rate recorded in the state.

The FBI said Ohio's rate was up 44 per cent over 1955 while the national increase for these crimes was 5.8 per cent.

The Federal Agency said there were 191 murder-homicides in Ohio in 1955 and 275 last year. The FBI's figures came from 174 Ohio cities.

Cleveland, the report showed, had the greatest increase in murder-manslaughter cases, recording 63 in 1955 and 91 in 1956. Youngstown showed a decrease from twelve to 8.

OSOFF

A Houston, Tex. motorist left this note on the windshield of his car which he parked on a local street:

"Officer, this meter is out of order. I put two dimes in it." When he returned he found a parking ticket and this note from the policeman:

"This is a nickel meter."

The Illinois secretary of state has received a petition from the Henpecked Husbands' Hideout Association, asking permission for the group to disband.

There was no indication of the role played in this matter by the wives of the members.

Danish police sheepishly confessed they are looking for a burglar who escaped from the West Jutland Prison after it was discovered he had used the jail as a base for burglaries.

The convict had twice broken out of prison, looted local stores and then "broken back" into his cell where authorities later found 10 sets of underwear, four watches and a large store of canned goods.

A lobbyist at the Colorado Legislature, incensed when rules barring lobbyists from the floors of both houses were enforced, angrily commented:

"Legislators will be sorry. Without our counseling and advice, they won't know how to vote."

According to the Paris newspaper France-Soir: "During the World Youth Festival Moscow will have a 'Street of Love,' and a 'Street of Vitamins.'"

An El Monte, Calif. resident learned to his dismay that he talks too much.

He pulled his sport car behind a warehouse in El Monte, and confided to a man who asked what he was doing there:

"I just ditched a highway patrolman who was after me for speeding."

The questioner then introduced himself as an off-duty deputy sheriff and arrested the man on suspicion of evading arrest.

A twenty-two year old Laplander had no objection to serving his time with the Norwegian army. However, he refused to serve with the Norwegian contingent of the U.N. forces in Egypt on the grounds that he was a "reindeer herder not a camel driver."

Change In View
Lecture Feature

"It is too big for the good of the businessmen who must deal with it and too big for the good of the country," stated the American Institute of Management in a report on General Motors Corp. Three years ago when Jackson Martindell, president of the organization, came to the campus, he defended big business and denounced those who criticized big business as being wrong. He simply stated that big business should be left alone.

Now, Mr. Martindell and the Institute have changed their minds. The business administration department has invited Mr. Martindell back to the campus on Wednesday, May 1 to explain this change of viewpoint.

There will be two lectures, which are open to the public without charge. The lectures will be presented in the recreation hall the first at 3:30 p.m. and the second at 7:30 p.m.

HOW MUCH IS THAT DOGFISH
IN THE WINDOW?

Dear Mom and Dad (writes Zelda May Nirdlinger, soph).

You have been asking me to account for all the money I spend. There follows a day by day summary of recent expenditures. Don't forget, you asked for it.

MONDAY:

$2.78 — telegram to the Secretary of the Army, offering to go instead of Elvis.

$0.26 — pack of Philip Morris, my favorite, and yours, if you know a good thing when you taste one!

$0.50 — sorority fine for oversleeping and missing my first hour class twelve days in a row.

I bought a rooster named Ralph

$2.95 — I bought a rooster named Ralph to wake me in the morning. (Can't sleep with an alarm clock ticking all night.)

TUESDAY:

$0.50 — sorority fine for not cleaning my plate at dinner. (I just couldn't! Dinner was Ralph.)

$0.50 — sorority fine for dating undesirable boy. (Roderigo is not undesirable! Some people say he is "fast" and a "devil" but I say he is just insecure. Why else would he go steady with eight girls?)

$0.26 — pack of Philip Morris. What joy! What zest!

WEDNESDAY:

$557.38 — a motorcycle for Roderigo. (He is giving up all his other girls for me, but they are so widely scattered that he needs a fast conveyance to go around and tell them all goodbye.)

$0.26 — pack of Philip Morris. (Have you tried them yet? If not, you've got a big treat coming. Light one soon. Light either end.)

THURSDAY:

$0.50 — sorority fine for staying too long in the shower. (Gee whiz, a girl gets mighty dirty polishing a motorcycle!)

$0.52 — two packs of Philip Morris — one for Roderigo. (Dear Roderigo!)

FRIDAY:

$0.26 — pack of Philip Morris — a happy smoke for a happy day. Yesterday Roderigo broke with the last of his girls, and today he is mine, all mine!

$8.57 — new dogfish for zoology. (I was dissecting a dogfish in zoology when I happened to look out the window and see Roderigo riding by with Mary Ann Beasley on his buddy seat. I got so upset I threw the dogfish at them.)

SATURDAY:

$2.59 — a carton of Philip Morris, one pack for me, the rest for Roderigo. (I was foolish to be angry about Mary Ann. Roderigo explained that she meant nothing to him—just helping him with English lit. Similarly, Grace Krovney is helping him with Spanish, Betsy Pike with econ, Mazda Notkin with psych, Lola Tweet with phys ed, etc. The least he can do is give them all Philip Morris.)

Well, mom and dad, you can see how expensive college is. Send money. . . . Love and kisses, Zelda May

© Max Shulman, 1957

The price may vary from place to place, but Philip Morris continues to be a natural smoke that daunts no purse, however small. It is made in regular and long size by the sponsors of this column, and is ignitable at either end.

Diamondmen Split Pair With Flashes

Last Friday and Saturday the Falcon diamond crew split a two game series with the Golden Flashes of Kent State. The weather weary BG squad thumped the Kentmen 8-4 in the first clash, and then absorbed a 12-2 lashing the following afternoon.

On Friday Wade Diefenthaler's offerings frustrated the Flashes, holding them to but eight hits and four runs. The Falcons supported Diefenthaler with one of their best offensive attacks of the year, eight runs on ten hits.

The Falcons broke the scoring ice in the first inning when three BG baserunners checked in with scoring tallies. Paul Dienstberger and Jerry Schoonover singled but Tom Minarcin's double was the big blow of the inning.

Noisy Falcon Eighth

After the first inning the Falcon offense was quiet until the eighth. In the inning five hits and one walk resulted in five runs for the BG cause.

On Saturday the Kent Staters unloaded a ten hit barrage on four BG hurlers for the 12-2 victory. Going into the sixth inning Bowling Green held a one run advantage, 2-1, but the Golden Flash hitters solved Joe Podojil, and his successor Don Hornish, for three hits and four runs.

The seventh was even rockier as the Flashes raked Hornish and Ralph DeBeauclair for five runs on four hits.

BG Whips Findlay

During the spring recess the Falcons spanked Findlay College by a decisive 10-0 margin, but dropped two decisions to the Redskins of Miami; 6-1, and 5-2. Overall the Orange and Brown are 2-3 in all games, and hold a record of one win and three losses in MAC competition.

Golfers To Meet Toledo Here Today

The Toledo University golf team will be guests of Bowling Green in a dual meet this afternoon.

Last Saturday Albion College of Michigan won a triangular meet from Bowling Green and Toledo. Albion clipped BG, 11½ to 6½, then whipped Toledo, 14 to 1.

Gary Hallett and Jim Bernicke toured the course in 73, one less than the meet's low men, Bob Johns and Don Hamilton, both of Albion.

On Tuesday, April 16, Coach Creason's crew beat Eastern Michigan, 12 to 8, but lost to Wayne, 9½ to 6½. Hallett had the low score of the afternoon—a 68. Dave Steinen of BG also won his match with a 77, as did Joe Ungvary with an 81.

Thinclads Down Kent 86-60 For Initial Win; Face Wayne Tomorrow

The Bowling Green thinclads won their first track meet of the season as they downed the Kent State runners 86-60. In winning seven events and tying for two firsts, the Falcons displayed some of the talent that almost won last year's MAC title.

Conference 440 champion Ted Thomas led the field of runners in scoring with firsts in both the 880 and mile relays, the 440-yard dash, and a third in the 220-yard dash.

Jack Mortland, another quarter-mile ace, was close on Thomas's heels in that event and won the 220-yard low hurdles. He also anchored the winning mile relay.

Carlos Jackson returned to the team for the first time since his stroke of polio. He anchored the winning 880-yard relay team.

Other outstanding performances were turned in by sophomores John Scott and Bob Ramlow. Scott won the 880-yard dash with a commendable time of 1:59.9, while Ramlow tied for a first in the pole vault at 12 ft. 6 inches and placed second in the broadjump. Other winners included Dick Luehrs, in the shotput; Al Ojanpa, in the discus; and Lynn Koester, who tied for first in the high jump.

The freshmen team had its hands full as they battled the Kent yearlings down to the wire, losing in the last event. Benard Casey, outstanding freshman hurdler, romped. His times of 15.2 in the ed to double victories in the hurdle high hurdles and 25.3 in the low hurdles both surpassed the old freshman hurdles marks set before this season. He failed, however to better his times of the previous day against Findlay College in which he set new freshman hurdles records with a 15.1 in the high hurdles and 25.2 in the lows.

Next Wednesday the varsity encounters a strong Wayne team at the Falcon stadium. Last year the Falcons took most of the honors but the outlook this season is not so bright. Wayne will be paced by a duo of excellent quarter milers and good performers in both the distance and weight events.

BG Matches Shots With TU After Spilling Flyers

By RON SUPINSKI

Sweeping all the singles matches and copping two of the three doubles pairings, the Falcon netmen hung an 8-1 drubbing on the University of Dayton racquet swingers here Saturday. It was the locals first tennis win in four starts this season.

Start of the matches was delayed for more than an hour by rain. However once action got underway the Falcon racquets began to smolder.

In singles action, Dean Bacon disposed of the Flyers' Joe Ponce, 6-2, 6-2, while Ed Wahl defeated Bob Westerkamp, 6-2, 6-1. Jerry Kramer beat Manual Cadiz, 6-4, 6-1 and DeWayne Smith edged Tom Zims, 9-7, 6-2.

Tom Crow was extended in beating the visitor's George Fink, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3 while Dick Abele whipped Earl Scheidler, 6-0, 6-2.

It was the combination of Bacon and Wahl again in the doubles as they downed Ponce and Zims, 6-2, 6-3. Kramer and Abele teamed to make short work of Mike Dinnin and Art Ho, 6-0, 6-1. Dayton's Westerkamp and Cadiz salvaged the Flyers' lone point by beating Smith and John Meloy, 6-1, 9-7.

Friday at Granville the Falcons went down to their third defeat at the hands of the Denison University netters by an 8-1 score. Denison is a perennial tennis power in the Ohio Conference. BG's No. 3 doubles team of Kramer and Abele disposed of the home force's John Haugman and Bruce Oberlin, 6-1, 6-4, for the Falcons only score.

Friday's results: Dean Bacon lost to Shaw Emmons, 0-6, 0-6; Ed Wahl vs. Jerry Florez, 2-6, 4-6; Jerry Kramer vs. Dave Brown, 1-6, 0-6; Tom Crow vs. Bob Barney, 1-6, 1-6; DeWayne Smith vs. John Reynolds, 2-6, 1-6; Dick Abele vs. John Chandler, 1-6, 2-6; Bacon and Wahl vs. Emmons and Brown, 0-6, 7-9 and Crow and Smith vs. Barney and Florez, 1-6, 1-6.

Tomorrow the Falcon netters are at home to face the University of Toledo racquetmen in a match scheduled to begin at 2:30. The Rockets boast a fine 6-1 record losing only to Memphis

Five Members Represent WRA At Convention

Nancy Mainz, Linda Tieman, Nancy Ford, Janet Fenwick and Luann Semler recently attended a convention of the American Federation of College Women, in Lincoln, Nebraska, of which the Women's Recreation Association is a member.

The delegates attended business meetings, in which rules and other problems of the organization were discussed. Discussion groups were held where students compared WRA's of various colleges and universities and talked over problems.

Ways in which the individual organizations could be improved were also discussed. Features of the convention were a picnic and a banquet.

Theta Chi Fetes Parents, Friends

The seventh annual Theta Chi Parent's Week End was held April 26-28 with approximately 300 guests attending. The week end provided entertainment for parents of actives and pledges, giving them an idea of what fraternity life at Bowling Green consists.

At the "Dream Girl Dance" held Saturday night, Miss Sue Lingenfelder was crowned "Dream Girl of Theta Chi." Attending Miss Lingenfelder were Miss Janet Insley, Miss Louise Knoll, and Miss Nancy Dushman. Tommy Todak's orchestra played for dancing.

Friday night, open house was held at the house, while Saturday found the group rooting for the chapter at the Bike Race. Saturday night the guests and fraternity traveled to the Moose Lodge in Fremont where the banquet and closed formal were held.

Dr. Elden T. Smith, director of student life and services at the University, was the speaker. James Rodgers made presentations of chapter awards to Richard Cogan, named outstanding senior in the chapter; Robert Grout, named outstanding man in the chapter; Rex McGraw, highest accumulative grade average; and Al Reinke, scholarship improvement award.

Mrs. Owen Robinett, mother of Ronald Robinett, was crowned "Dream Mother of Theta Chi." Mrs. Francis Miller, mother of Joseph Miller and Len Miller, was attendant. The week end was also dedicated to Mrs. Miller.

The evening was climaxed with a midnight buffet at the house followed by the "Dream Girl Serenade" at the Delta Gamma house, where Miss Lingenfelder and the mothers were staying.

Insurance Club Holds First Annual Banquet

The Insurance Club held its first annual banquet Monday, April 29, at the Whitehouse Inn in Whitehouse.

Bradford D. Hazeltine, Cleveland's general agent of the National Life Insurance Co., Montpelier, Vt., spoke on "Life Insurance Men in the Community." Mr. Hazeltine was here about a month ago and talked to the Club. He was one of the four lecturers who spoke on the general subject "Life Insurance at Work."

Joseph Miller, president of the Club, was the toastmaster. Thirty-two members and five guests attended the banquet.

Chi O, Sigma Chi Teams Win Alpha Gam Bridge Tournament

Gayle Meyer and Ann Winterbotham, Chi Omega, and John Cavins and Bruce McNair, Sigma Chi, won the Alpha Gamma Delta Annual Bridge Tournament in the finals Sunday, April 28, at the Alpha Gam House, announced Betty Sneary, chairman.

Two representatives from sororities, fraternities, and dormitories played in the semi-finals which were held Sunday, April 14. The six winning couples in the men's and women's divisions competed in the finals.

Those finalists included Carolyn Kissel and Eleanor Starbuck, Delta Zeta; Gayle Meyer and Ann Winterbotham, Chi Omega; Ruth Paquet and Nancy Arnold, Kappa Delta; Frances Stevenson and Mary Kohring, Alpha Xi Delta; and Marty Simmers and Clara Jackiewicz, Treadway Hall.

John Cavin and Bruce McNair, Sigma Chi; William Opie and James Corbin, Williams Hall; Charles Mantel and William Shaw, Delta Epsilon; James Elliott and Thomas Girken, Phi Kappa Tau; and Ralph Jones and Ron Walsh, Pi Kappa Alpha.

Mrs. Waldo Steidtmann and Dr. John Coash, advisers to the Campus Bridge Club, served as directors of the tournament.

Pictures of the two winning couples will appear in Friday's issue of the News.

Committees for the tournament included Barbara Humbel, chairman, Barbara Bigelow, and Beverly Staidle—equipment; Joanne Nichols, chairman, Dorothy Miles, and Nancy Baker—name tags; Dixie Blackman, chairman, and Sue Greathouse—refreshments; Carol Bredder, publicity; Judy Fishbaugh, chairman, Mary Hartwell, Darlene Schaeffer, and Janet Hellman—set-up; and Barbara Warren, clean-up.

2 Psychology Profs To Attend Confab

Dr. Benjamin Rosenberg and Dr. Robert M. Guion, assistant professor of psychology, will take part in the program at the Mid-Western Psychological Association Convention at the Hotel Sherman in Chicago, May 2-4.

Dr. Rosenberg will be one of the members of a panel evaluating the effectiveness of having clinical teams composed of a psychologist, a psychiatrist, and a psychiatric social worker in mental hospitals. He will discuss methods of research that would evaluate the effectiveness.

Dr. Guion will conduct a symposium on "Industrial Morale." He also will present a paper titled "Factor Analysis of Dexterity and Vision Tests," co-authored by himself and Lee Bourassa, a graduate student at the University in 1955-56.

7 Profs, 2 Students Have Work Accepted In Toledo Art Show

Seven art faculty members and two art students of the University had works accepted for the 39th Annual Exhibition of Toledo Area Artists, which opens Sunday, May 5, in the Toledo Museum of Art.

There are 177 exhibitors in the show scheduled to be held through May 26, according to George M. Furman, assistant to the director of the museum.

Bowling Green artists and type of work accepted by the jury are: associate professors of art, Robert O. Bone, water color; Charles J. Lakofsky, ceramics; and Willard Wankelman, jewelry.

Assistant professors of art include Otto G. Oevirk, an oil, a watercolor, and prints; Paul D. Running, an oil; Robert E. Stinson, an oil; and Phillip R. Wigg, a print.

Carol Creason's oil painting and oils, and a watercolor by Allan M. Shepp are the student entries.

Announcement of the prize-winning exhibits will be made Saturday, May 4.

Education In Greece

Nightly Studies Are Not New To Greek Student At University

By MARCIA KARSZEWSKI

College students fret and groan over the "piles" of homework that accumulate each night and characteristically mount to gargantuan proportions each week end. But for many of us, nightly studies don't begin until college. Such is not the case in Greece, according to George Kalligeros of Kytheta, Greece.

Competition is the key note through the first years of school in Greece and hits a high mark in the sixth grade. At the sixth year students must pass a difficult examination to study at the Gymnasium composed of a six-year course and comparable to our high school.

"On the whole," states Kalligeros, "schools are harder because of high selectivity that isn't found in America." The proportion of Grecian students to the entire population is much less than in America. The exchange student states that the reason for this is because there is not as great a need for technically-trained people in agricultural Greece as there is in industrially-minded America.

We Americans are able to fashion our own schedules to taste (almost), but the Grecian curriculum is stringently regulated.

High School Course

"Even the high school course" cites Kalligeros, "consists of requirements (no electives)." Each student takes six years of mathematics, history, science, religion and Greek. There are no language electives, either, but if a school is fortunate enough to have a language teacher (other than Greek), students take the language he offers, regardless of desire.

The bright-eyed student notes a similarity in the Grecian and American systems (and there are doubtless many more). In both countries, private schools are easly superior to the more crowded public schools.

The European university is purely an academic institution. Teachers, students, classes (period) make up a college.

Campus Unknown

"There is no such thing as a campus like we have at Bowling Green," grinned the 22-year-old student. The situation is similar to municipal schools like the University of Toledo where students live in one part of the city (or town) and go to school in another.

Kalligeros, a major in chemistry, wanted to study in America to learn American culture and to see our country. Naturally, he was delighted, he says, when he received a four-year scholarship to Bowling Green from the Greek-American Scholarship Association.

Kalligeros says he really likes Bowling Green because of the individual attention students can get. Students don't get this attention in Greece where two big universities and a few specialized colleges such as the Polytechnic School at Athens have limited faculties and where time is golden.

Language Difficulty

Kalligeros admits that our language was difficult for him at first. When he arrived in the Toledo Terminal Station four years ago, he was asked if he was a freshman. Says George, "I thought he said French man, and I told him I was from Greece."

Freshman friends at East Falcon Hall, where George lived his freshman year, instructed him in spare moments. "I got so good I almost surprised them a couple of times," quipped Kalligeros.

Kalligeros, now a senior, will graduate from the College of Liberal Arts and will qualify for teaching, also.

Committee To Lead Worship At Confab

Bowling Green will lead the worship program at the Ohio Area Student YMCA and YWCA Spring Conference at Tar Hollow May 3 through 5. "Personal Pilgrimage to Faith" is the theme of the conference.

Dr. Everett Kircher, professor of educational philosophy of Ohio State University, will be the platform speaker. Dr. Kircher has been active in the Y movement and is the chairman of the Ohio State YMCA advisory board. He will speak Friday evening, Saturday and Sunday morning and will hold individual conferences with delegates throughout the week end.

The total cost of the conference will be $7 which includes a $3 deposit upon registration. Any college student of faculty member is encouraged to attend. Jan Wagner will act as chairman of the worship committee.
